

In response to the editor's inquiry in the September Bulletin, Bob Schwerdt submitted the photo at left to show that some of the Italian stamps of 1924-25 with labels do, indeed, exist Perfined. Both the stamp and the label bear a B.I.S Perfin, which is 12 mm high. The stamp is Scott #105h, bearing the advertising label of Singer Sewing Machine Company.

Secretary Floyd Walker has an article on commercial overprints in the November issue of The American Philatelist. Floyd points out that it has a remote connection with Perfins in that there are a few stamps bearing both a Perfin and a commercial overprint.
